Famed City Of Sin Reduced To Virtually A Ghost Town

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—The gunman who murdered crime-fighter Albert L. Patterson on the fateful night of June 18 is still a wanted fugitive despite seven weeks of the greatest manhunt in Alabama history.
But the three shots fired into Patterson's body have exploded again and again in an unrelenting war on vice and racketeering that has made this storied city of sin a virtual ghost town.

The brightly lighted cafes and honky-tonks where carefree soldiers from nearby Ft. Benning, Ga., spent millions of dollars a year on gambling and other lurid frolics have been nclosed outright or put on short rations.
Their liquor and beer licenses have been suspended. Many of the gaudy night spots have been padlocked by raiding National Guardsmen who found hundreds of slot machines, lottery tickets, crooked dice, and telltale hypodermic needles and vials which gave evidence of narcotics traffic.

The troops have taken over all law enforcement functions in Phenix City and most of Russell County, stripping the civilian police of even the right to carry guns. That was done under limited martial law proclaimed by Gov. Gordon Persons.

Except for police duties, however, other civilian offices—including the courts—were left untouched by military rule.

In almost daily arrests, the steel-helmeted troops and reinforced squads of state highway patrolmen have brought more than 50 persons into custody, including two public officials, two deputy sheriffs and one of the reputed vice lords.

Other gambling big shots have been called in for questioning. Phenix City's Mayor Elmer Reese was arrested for wilful neglect of duty because of the gambling which went on.

Solicitor Arch Ferrell, the county's ousted criminal prosecutor, was jailed for drunkenness, fined $100 for drunk driving and his driver's license suspended.

Ferrell, who already had been relieved of duty, also is under indictment along with two others on charges of vote manipulation in an effort to defeat the anti-vice crusading Patterson in the June 1 Democratic primary runoff.

Patterson, promising to rid Phenix City of vice and lawlessness, was nominated for attorney general of Alabama but was assassinated before he could take office.

Indicted with Ferrell were the state's highest legal officer, Atty. Gen. Si Garrett, and Lamar Reid, chairman of the Birmingham Democratic Executive Committee, who resigned following the indictment.

Gambling czar Godwin Davis, another of those arrested in the mushrooming vice cleanup in Phenix City, spent six days in jail before he could raise bond of $22,000 on 44 gambling charges. His son, Godwin Jr., picked up on similar charges, also made bond.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller, whose flair for wide-brimmed hats and ornate pistols made him almost a legendary figure in Phenix City, was charged with violating Alabama's election laws by unlawfully influencing voters.

Another deputy, Aaron Smith, was arrested later on similar charges.

The grand jury which indicted Ferrell, Garrett and Reid on the vote tampering charges in Birmingham said in its final report that the campaign of Patterson's runoff opponent, Lee Porter of Gadsden, was "financed almost entirely by Phenix City racketeers."

That conclusion came after the elder Davis told the jurors he and his pals gave Porter $22,000.

Patterson had planned to appear before the grand jury to tell what he knew but was slain a few hours after he made that known.

Ex-POW Loses Poll, Kills Patrolman

LEXINGTON, Tenn. (AP)—A Korean War veteran, whose wife married another man while he was a POW, went on a shooting spree here early today after losing the election for sheriff.

A patrolman was killed and the police chief wounded seriously.

Patrolman Isaac McHagen said the shooting was done by Ex-Sgt. James A. Cogburn, 33. His young wife married James Hern while Cogburn was a prisoner.

McHagen said Cogburn and another man were firing in today's wild spree, but that it was Cogburn who fatally shot patrolman Arthur Gurley, 50, and wounded Police Chief Clovis Stanfill, 34.

Cogburn received a little more than 200 votes out of 3,000 cast in yesterday's general election for sheriff of Henderson County.

Fisherman's Catch Yields Food, Cash

NARUTO, Japan (AP)—Kameichi Matsumoto, 58, broke and hungry, went fishing for his supper.

He got a bite and hauled in a big octopus clutching tightly in its tentacles a purse containing more than 7,000 yen (about $20).

Matsumoto ate the octopus and reported the money to police. If no one claims it, he can have it.

Sailor Misses Job By 2 Feet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—He only missed by two feet getting back on the job—but that was enough.

The tug Sea Wolf was that far off Pier 25 when Seaman Alvin A. Sunberg—dashing back from shore leave—missed and landed in the bay. Police pulled him out.

FARM BLOC SEES VICTORY

Hiroshima's Bells Toll In Memory Of Awful Hour Just Nine Years Ago

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—The bells of Hiroshima tolled today for the awful hour of nine years ago.

It was 8:15 a. m. when the first atomic bomb ever loosed in warfare burst with frightful fury over Hiroshima.

The rebuilt homes are flimsy and the streets are rutted. But the city seems to be on its feet again, mentally and materially.

Only 90,000 out of the population of 350,000 were here on that day. The rest are newcomers to this town. They don't know.

Kiyochi Tsuchoka, member of the city council, remembers. He

He prayed that "there will be no more war, and no more human beings atomized." He had been lucky on that day. He was three miles away from the blast.

Now the scars of the bomb are gone, except for the gnarled skeleton of steel which was all that was left of Memorial Hall.

The house was flattened and my wife was crying 'help, help' from under the debris. I was injured and could not lift the heavy beams and pillars that pinned her down. I looked around for help.

"I saw only dead bodies strewn around. I had to leave my dying wife because fire was spreading. Her voice still rings in my ears."

Prof. Kanae Watanabe of Hiroshima University was also only 1,000 yards away but escaped without a scratch.

"I was in the library when the bomb exploded," he said. "Perhaps the books shielded me. I ran into the hall after the explosion and saw three of my colleagues dead, their skulls split open."

Watanabe found his wife and son unharmed in the suburbs, although their home was knocked down.

"I guess," he said, "we are the luckiest of all in Hiroshima."

Court Ban On A-Strike Being Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House today was reported considering applying for an 80-day court injunction under the Taft-Hartley law to ban a threatened new strike of key atomic workers.

Should they so decide, federal attorneys could seek the court order almost at once because they cleared legal preliminaries for the same case last month.

Government efforts to spur a wage settlement in the four-month-old dispute involving CIO workers at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky., collapsed last night.

Elwood Swisher, president of the CIO Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers, whose 4,500 members at Oak Ridge and Paducah struck four days last July 7-10 in the same dispute, said the union has set a new strike date, but declined to name the day.

A government panel two months ago recommended a 6-cent hourly pay increase, but both the CIO union and the AFL Atomic Trades and Labor Council—representing another 4,500 workers in other Oak Ridge atomic plants—rejected the proposal, asking for a 15-cent raise. However, the AFL workers did not strike.

Present pay rates range from $1.58 to $2.40 an hour.

U. S. Officials Shrugging Off Red Turndown

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist China's double dismissal of American protests was shrugged off by top U. S. officials today as a gesture which could not erase the record made against the Reds.

Protest notes were sent to Peking through the British government over a week ago to register anger at the killing of three Americans in a British airliner shot down by Communist fighters July 23 off Red-held Hainan Island. The United States demanded punishment of those guilty of the attack and compensation for the six American casualties.

In a second note on Wednesday, the United States renewed the protest and demands for compensation. Washington told the Chinese that British ownership of the plane did not relieve Red China of responsibility for the U. S. deaths.

Officials here said other steps were under consideration, but that rejection of the protests was relatively unimportant because:

1. The United States made its real reaction known when it dispatched two aircraft carriers to the trouble area immediately after the July 23 attack on the airliner and shot down two Chinese fighters.

2. The protest notes themselves, along with other official actions, have sought to make clear the ruthless conduct of the Chinese Reds in attacking the unarmed commercial airliner in the first place.

3. The United States can and will make full use of this affair in arguing in the autumn session of the United Nations against any move to give Red China a seat.

Cancer Kills, Wife Of 'Rochester'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Mamie Anderson, 42, wife of Eddie Anderson, the "Rochester" of Jack Benny's shows, died of cancer last night at her home after an illness of two years.

Mrs. Anderson also is survived by a son, Billie Anderson, a member of the Chicago Bears professional football team.

Driver of Death Car Is Held To Grand Jury

Donald Eugene Bryan, facing two charges of second degree manslaughter and another charge of driving while drunk, appeared before Judge R. L. Brubaker in municipal court Friday morning and was held to the grand jury on the two second degree manslaughter charges.

He furnished $350 bond for his appearance in municipal court on Oct. 6 to answer to the drunk driving charge. He was accompanied by his attorney, W. S. Paxson.

The charges all grow out of the deaths of two Tennessee hitchhikers, James Andrew Gosnell of Sevierville, and Mary Ella Covington of near Knoxville. They were killed on the CCC Highway near Memorial Hospital early Sunday morning, when struck by Bryan's car.

Bryan who had furnished $5,000 for his appearance in municipal court, waived examination, entered a plea of not guilty, and was placed under the same bond, of $5,000, for appearance in common pleas court.

The two charges will be investigated by the grand jury, which is expected to meet within the next few weeks.

It required only a short time for the court proceedings. The courtroom was filled with spectators who had assembled for the preliminary hearing.

Sheriff Orland Hays filed the driving while drunk charge against Bryan Thursday after receiving report on a blood test which, he said, showed an abnormal amount of alcohol content.

Van Duzer referred to William M. Wasick, Akron utilities director and a witness for the bloc of cities opposing Ohio Bell's increase application. The cities contend Ohio Bell should slash its present rates by an amount greater than it wants to raise them.

Van Duzer's remark followed Wasick's testimony that Ohio Bell would better its financial condition and thus facilitate the lowering of its rates by assuming a greater bonded indebtedness. When Wasick's counsel, Akron Law Director Richard O. Gantz, tried to ward off cross examination by Van Duzer, the Ohio Bell chief said this indicated the fallacy of the testimony.

Today's cross examination of Wasick developed into a battle of wits between the witness from Akron and Van Duzer.

Van Duzer indicated he thought Wasick had dropped one study of comparative earnings of Bell affiliates because it would not aid his case. Wasick insisted he did not use the study because he found it did not apply to the case.

Adlai Stevenson, titular head of the party, and Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell arranged to see Truman at his home in nearby Independence, Mo., in a meeting that could very well influence campaign course.

Stevenson arrived here last night from Canada, a bit shaken from the experience of having his plane struck by lightning while flying at 14,000 feet over Lewiston, Mont. Neither he nor any of the other 15 aboard was injured.

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, admitted: "I was scared for the first time in more than 30 years of flying."

Tonight Truman will make a brief pep talk to about 70 party bigwigs who came here to plan ways and means of building up quickly a not-so-hefty war chest.

THE FORMER President is still weak from a recent gall bladder and appendix operation, and friends have been asked not to tire him by shaking hands.

With the money talk, there was speculation over Mitchell's successor as national chairman. He has said he will step down after the November elections and return to his law practice in Chicago.

The name most prominently mentioned was that of James E. Finnegan, president of the Philadelphia City Council who has captained several successful campaigns in the Quaker City. Finnegan was an early pro-Stevenson man in the 1952 campaign.

Other names were Mike di Salle, former mayor of Toledo and head of the Office of Price Stabilization in the Truman administration; Paul Butler of Indianapolis, Democratic national committeeman; and Robert Butler of St. Paul, one-time ambassador.

Stevenson will be the wheel-horse in the money-raising drive and already has eight major speeches lined up for the weeks ahead—starting with one tomorrow in Omaha, Neb. The trooper followed the other car, curbed it and asked the driver, "Didn't you see me when you made that turn?"

The elderly driver replied, "No, I don't see very well. I do the driving, but Ma here tells me when to turn."

Ohio Bell Aide Sees 'Fallacy' In Opposition

COLUMBUS (AP)—The special counsel for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. says he has exposed the "fallacy" of arguments against the company's proposed $8,913,000 annual rate increase.

Ashley Van Duzer, representing Ohio Bell in the hearing before the state utilities commission on the company's application for the increase, said yesterday:

"I think the fallacy of the whole thing is partly exposed by the inability of the witness to answer some of the questions."

Van Duzer referred to William M. Wasick, Akron utilities director and a witness for the bloc of cities opposing Ohio Bell's increase application. The cities contend Ohio Bell should slash its present rates by an amount greater than it wants to raise them.

Van Duzer's remark followed Wasick's testimony that Ohio Bell would better its financial condition and thus facilitate the lowering of its rates by assuming a greater bonded indebtedness. ## Anti-Ike Plan Force Claiming New Support

GOP Leader Hoping For Tell-Tale Vote On Program Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Young (R-ND), reversing his prediction that a Senate group fighting for continued high farm price supports might suffer defeat, said today "I think we're going to win now; there have been some switches."

With six or eight votes apparently controlling the Senate fate of the Eisenhower administration's plan for flexible price supports, Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) questioned Young's claim.

He noted that even a Senate vote for rigid props would not be final. Holland, who supports the administration on the issue, said:

"They can't win even if they win a Senate test. The President would veto any extension of rigid supports and the whole issue is subject to a conference."

That was a reference to a compromise-seeking conference with the House, which has passed a modified version of the administration program, to be held after the Senates OKs its bill.

THAT APPEARED to be many thousands of words of oratory away. There have been two full days of debate and still there remained, on a pad on Vice President Nixon's desk, the names of 18 senators who want to speak on the issue.

GOP Leader Knowland said he still hopes for a vote today on the key issue of price supports.

Knowland, fighting for the Eisenhower administration's proposals for flexible and lower price supports, also scoffed at Young.

"We have two or three switches, too," Knowland commented.

Knowland added that both sides were anxious to have a vote on the issue.

Sens. Bridges (R-NH) and Payne (R-Maine) jumped into the debate today on the side of the administration.

Bridges, a one time agricultural teacher and county agent, said the administration program "will stop the senseless raid on the taxpayers to please a vociferous few."

Critics of the proposal for flexible price supports, for whom Young is unofficial spokesman, have done most of the talking so far, perhaps in hope of picking up a few votes before an actual test.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), floor manager for the administration bill and chairman of the agriculture committee, said his camp is ready for a vote.

PENDING IS Aiken's amendment to the Senate bill to authorize a system of flexible price supports on wheat, corn, cotton, rice and peanuts at from 80 to 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a computed price said by law to give a farm product a fair relative purchasing power in terms of farm costs.

Aiken's committee rejected 8-7 the flexible supports in favor of a one-year extension of mandatory 90 per cent supports on the five basic crops. A sixth, tobacco, would continue at 90 per cent under both proposals.

The administration asked originally for flexible supports between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, but President Eisenhower described himself as well pleased with the House vote for a range from 82½ to 90 per cent.

Failure of Congress to agree on a new act, or its veto, would bring into effect next year a flexible support law first put on the books in 1948 under the Truman administration.

However, this flexible system has not been permitted by Congress to go into effect, the farm bloc showing enough strength to extend the rigid support plan each year. The present rigid plan is to expire Dec. 31.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission has relaxed two rules in a move, promptly questioned by one of its own members, to encourage ultra high frequency television.

The commission announced yesterday that as of Sept. 1:

1. UHF stations may be licensed even though they will not originate local programs.

2. Any station, UHF or VHF, may establish side UHF stations in adjoining communities to re-broadcast its programs over a wide area.

McCarthy Probers To Avoid 'Vaudeville Show' Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators picked to investigate the conduct of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) indicated today a belief their hearings should be open to the public, but with some restraints to avoid a "vaudeville show" atmosphere.

In advance of a planned second meeting to discuss plans, most of the six members of the special committee said they did not want a repetition of the televised McCarthy-Army hearings.

The subcommittee which conducted those 36 days of stormy sessions planned a meeting of its own today to seek agreement on machinery for writing a report.

And McCarthy himself went ahead with his own investigation of what he terms widespread Communist infiltration of defense plants.

McCarthy reserved comment on the committee's membership, and on the prompt turnaround given his request yesterday for a closed-door talk about the group's plans for investigating him.

THE SIX SENATORS drafted to

Meanderings By Wash Fayette

The memory of Miss Jane Ann Britten, who made many friends here where she frequently visited relatives, is being perpetuated through a Jane Britten memorial fund that has been established at Concord College for Girls at Athens, W. Va.

Miss Britten died July 18 after a short illness following heart surgery at Lakeside Hospital. She was a sophomore at Concord College at the time of her death.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Britten, former residents of Washington, C. H. Among her relatives here and in the northwestern part of the county are Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ambrust; William C. Allen of near Jeffersonville; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen and Mrs. Forrest Allen DeBra, of Milledgeville.

A letter to Jane's parents from Janice Stewart, one of her schoolmates, gives the background of the Memorial fund established for her. It said in full:

"It was quite a shock to us when we learned of Jane's death and we realized we had lost one of the greatest girls who ever became a part of our family in the dormitory."

"When we saw Jane, we always expected to hear a cheerful greeting and usually some witty remark. She had a never failing smile for everyone and will always hold a big spot in the heart of everyone who ever met her."

"For this reason, we of the women's dormitory voted last night to contribute to a Memorial Loan Fund in her honor. Thus, a permanent Jane Britten Memorial Fund has been established to perpetuate her memory."

Damage Suit Filed In Gas Explosion

CLEVELAND (AP)—A $400,000 damage suit has been filed by a Cleveland couple who said they were injured in the West Side street explosion last Sept. 10.

In their suit, Thomas and Betty Dan, who charged the explosion was caused by inflammable liquids discharged into sewers.

Named as defendants were the cities of Cleveland and Lakewood, which allegedly failed to ventilate and maintain regular inspection of the sewers, the Glidden Co., Sun Oil Co. and Shell Oil Co. The Dan's said they suffered bruises and cuts when their automobile was blown off the ground in the blast.

Studebaker Aides Shun Pay Slash

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Some 5,000 workers at Studebaker Corp. last night turned down a 15 per cent pay cut which CIO United Auto Workers officials urged them to take to protect their jobs.

Paul G. Hoffman, Studebaker's board chairman, previously announced salaries to top executives had been cut 20 to 30 per cent in what he called a multi-million-dollar economy drive.

"Most of the workers just could not seem to accept a pay reduction after averaging only $35 a week for the last six months," a union spokesman said.

Jail Breaker Back In Jail

Lookout Here Ends
After His Capture

Fayette County and Washington C. H. law enforcement officers today could relax their watch for a Madison County jail breaker and give their full attention to the normal routines of their jobs.

Thursday they were alerted by a special radio broadcast by officers at London to be on the lookout for Carl Castle, 19, who had escaped from the jail there after overpowering an elderly guard.

Castle was captured in Mechanicsburg, a town north of London, by Police Chief Bill Flora, and word was sent out over the same official radio wave length that the hunt was all over.

Castle is wanted in Florida and Ohio for armed robbery, burglary and breaking and entering. Chief Flora captured Castle at the south end of town and took him to the town jail. Sheriff Harold Bidwell of Madison County is to return him to London.

All central Ohio law enforcement officers had been on the alert in an attempt to capture the man. They learned he had been in Columbus yesterday visiting at a sister's home, but authorities said he somehow managed to get through roadblocks set up for his capture.

Mrs. Ellen Purtell Is Called by Death

Mrs. Ellen Purtell, 87, died at her home, 511 East Market Street, at 5:20 P. M. Thursday, following a serious illness of six weeks. She had been in failing health, however, for the last three years.

She was a native of Clinton County but had lived in this community for 60 years.

She was a member of Grace Methodist Church and of its WSCS. Her husband, Henry Purtell, died 34 years ago, but she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. William Theobald, a granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Woodmansee, and two great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Theobald had made their home with her in recent years. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Adda Mulvihill and Mrs. Sarah Stevens of near Sabina.

Remember August 6, 1945? Fireball Doomed Hiroshima

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—On Aug. 6, 1945, at 9:15 a. m., an atomic fireball flashed over Hiroshima, Japan, and 128,150 people were killed, injured, maimed or burned.

One bomb... 78,150 dead or dying... 50,000 injured... a city virtually wiped out... and soon a nation forced to quick surrender by the appalling power of the atom.

But Hiroshima was only the popgun phase of the young Atomic Age. Nine years and 12 billion dollars later, the popgun of Hiroshima had become a weapon so dreadful that it could—and did—blow a mile wide hole, 175 feet deep, in the coral floor of the Pacific Ocean. The crater was big enough to hold 140 buildings the size of the nation's Capitol.

This was done with a 1952-model hydrogen device which without doubt has undergone a good many refinements since then as a weapon of total destruction. The Hiroshima bomb had an explosive power equal to 20,000 tons of TNT. The hydrogen bomb TNT equivalent runs into the millions of tons.

On this ninth anniversary of Hiroshima, where does the United States stand in the world of the atom? Here is a brief run-down:

The most fearful development perhaps is that the United States has lost the monopoly on the atomic bomb which existed in August 1945. At that time this country alone had the weapon which could have brought military mastery of the world—had this nation been a land bent on conquest. Now Russia has mastered the scientific and industrial techniques of manufacturing atomic weapons.

Today it's a race between Russia and the United States for atomic supremacy. American experts say the United States has the lead—but a lead that is being narrowed by the Russians. Great Britain, too, has an advanced program and has exploded an atomic bomb.

The bombs which dropped on Hiroshima and three days later on Nagasaki perhaps were the only two completed atomic bombs in the American stockpile at that time. Now there are "baby" bombs, atomic artillery shells, guided missile warheads and the hydrogen giants such as the one exploded in the Pacific during the 1952 tests. The stockpile may now run into the thousands.

Some military men believe these weapons have become so horrible in their destructive power that no nation will ever dare the gamble of atomic war. But the fear that it may happen still drives this country forward in the race for atomic supremacy.

Something like 90 per cent of the billions poured into atomic development is for purposes of war and defense. But even though the emphasis is on weapons of war, huge strides have been made in some, 408 Van Deman Avenue Thursday afternoon. She had been a medical patient.

the direction of using the atom's fantastic energy for peace.

A by-product of the weapons program is that hundreds of scientists and engineers in the industrial world—working with the government in the atomic energy program—have gained important knowledge and experience in the peaceful use of nuclear energy.

And there is as much of a race for supremacy in the peaceful use of the atom—although far less dramatic—as there is in the weapons field. No industrial nation competing in the world markets can afford to be far outstripped in the use of this potentially cheap source of power.

One pound of uranium in a cube just one inch square has potential ly usable energy equal to 2,000, 000 pounds of coal. How to harness this energy to engines is a problem that is under steady attack by the best scientific and engineering minds around the world.

More than a score of nations have set up atomic energy programs—the great majority devoted solely to exploring the peaceful uses of nuclear energy. Twelve European nations have established a cooperative nuclear research organization with headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland.

The use of nuclear energy to produce electric power no longer is a dream. It has been done—and the problem now is to figure a way to make this atomic fuel produce power as cheaply or cheaper than coal.

The United States has an atomic submarine which it is believed will be able to travel thousands of miles with no need of refueling.

A land-based prototype of the atomic engine, according to a recent Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee report, has "already produced more than enough power to send an atomic submarine around the world, submerged, at full speed."

There are visions, too, that in the not-distant future ships and airplanes will be powered by nuclear energy and that atomic powerhouses will bring cheap electricity to industrial areas and to remote regions where fuel costs now are almost prohibitive.

The government expects to have an atomic power plant operating in two or three years—but no one can say yet how economical such a plant will be.

Industry and the medical world have found a multitude of uses for the atom. In fact, a sizable "atomic industry" has grown up to supply materials and equipment to those using radioactive material.

All these things have happened in the nine years since Hiroshima and it is only the beginning. Even with all their advances, scientists are aware that the nucleus of the atom still holds many secrets they have not plumbed.

The race will go to those who discover those secrets first—and then are able to change theory into the reality of a practical operation.

At this point, the experts say, the United States still is out in front.

Waverly Pre-Fab Housing Decried

WAVERLY (AP)—The Riverdale Community Assn., composed of resident in a 400-unit Public Housing Authority project here, has sent complaints to Washington officials about housing conditions.

R. R. O'Day, speaking for the association, said many of the pre-fab buildings in the project have cracks large enough for daylight, sun and rain to come through. He called the $56.75 monthly rental for the units "outrageous," and said the association was complaining also about rates charged by Waverly for water and sewage. He said the average family is spending in excess of $45 every three months for these services.

ADA (AP)—Sen. Thomas A. Burke (D-Ohio) and State Auditor James A. Rhodes will address the 41st Farmers and Merchants picnic at Ada Memorial Park Aug. 18.

Burke opposes Rep. George Bender (R-Ohio) in this year's senatorial race. Rhodes is the Republican candidate running against Frank J. Lausche, the Democratic incumbent, for governor.

For Americans Who Are Looking Ahead

We Americans are declared to be a nation of dizzy busybodies by people of some other countries, including some of our own alleged allies.

In a world of uncertainties, highlighted by the H-Bomb, the A-Bomb and already some predictions of a C-Bomb of more terrifying possibilities, Americans have some disturbing thoughts. Maybe other countries should listen to the diplomats from this country who have been warning them of dangers ahead.

However there are some sound reasons advanced that perhaps the world is not planning to commit suicide in the foreseeable future. It seems more realistic for all of us to keep planning ahead for life and for the future of our children and children's children.

During the past year's time, our population has increased from 159,900,000 to 162,700,000. The last twelve months have set a new record of four million births. With all the talk of hard times, some of it stimulated by political soothsayers, consumer spending throughout the nation has dropped from the record year of 1953 by less than 1 percent.

In fact, our country spent more on homes, new housing and the family automobile than was spent in the comparable period last year.

During this same brief period, the movement outward from cities into newer suburbs has affected well over a million people. More than one million new homes not located on farms have been erected in cities and suburban areas. Incredible as it may seem, we have two and a half million more automobiles on the highways than we had one year ago.

If these are not signs of a vital and expanding economy, we just don't know how to read. The secret of stock market rises is no secret at all. It is based upon the belief in a continuing market and a continuous growth for the American way of life.

Date Postponed

Congressional leaders changed their target date for sine die adjournment from July 31st to August 7th—which means it will probably be August 14th before the final gavel falls. The House has completed most of its legislative work, and is in good position to adjourn; but the Senate still has many important measures to be acted upon, such as the Agriculture Bill, the Social Security Bill, the Unemployment Compensation Bill, the National Debt Limitation Bill, the Anti-Subversive Bills, the Foreign Aid Authorization and Appropriation Bills, and the Supplemental Appropriation Bill—in addition to a number of important conference reports.

Unjustified Prices

The Federal Trade Commission, which was instructed to investigate the present so-called coffee shortage and the high prices resulting therefrom, made a lengthy report of its findings to the president and the Congress recently. The report states the sharp increases in coffee prices were unjustified, and the result of the activities of coffee speculators and a controlled market—rather than any real shortage in raw coffee.

New Peace Found In Hill Country

HILL CITY, S. D. — How can a middle-aged woman who has lost her husband and reared her children adjust to a world that suddenly seems empty?

That was the problem that faced Mrs. Arthur Wermuth, mother of Maj. Art Wermuth, the famous "one-man army of Bataan."

She found the answer by turning her back on the busy social life of Chicago and settling down in a cabin in this old small (pop. less than 500) mining town in the Black Hills. She lives alone with her 8-year-old Dalmatian watchdog, "Sissy," and says she has found here a new peace and purpose in life.

"Ever since I came here," she said, "I have loved these hills so much that I could kiss the ground for the happiness they brought me."

Sitting in the living room of her log home, Mrs. Wermuth, a vivacious, dark-eyed woman whose age is still her own secret, told the story of her life.

"When I was in the third year in high school I had my appendix out," she recalled. "The surgeon had a son, who was also a doctor and helped him."

"I started hollering for the young doctor, and wouldn't let the old man take care of me."

After I left the hospital the son and I were engaged.

"I guess he fell in love with my insides."

"But for more than 24 years no woman ever had a finer husband. He was a good man."

The young doctor became a famous overworked surgeon. In 1925 his wife talked him into coming to the Black Hills on a fishing trip, and each year after that they returned.

"In Chicago he belonged to the people, and the city finally killed him," she said. "But out here he belonged only to me—and here we found peace together."

Widowed shortly before the war, Mrs. Wermuth spent nine years traveling about the country with her daughter, Talia, who had become a professional dancer. They were tiring, anxious years.

Her son had won fame by killing more than 100 Japanese single-handed in patrol actions on Bataan before being taken prisoner.

"For more than 3½ years I worried every night that they would kill him in prison camp," she said.

After the war she settled here with her daughter, who is married to a businessman in nearby Custer. Her son is now in the insurance business in Denver.

"To this day we have never talked about the war," she reported.

marked. "Some day, mother, I'll tell you about it," he said, and some day, when he is ready, he will tell me. But it is over, and now he doesn't want even to hear about it.

"So far he hasn't even looked at the scrapbook I collected about his heroism, but some time he will. I also still have the gavel used in the House of Representatives to declare war on Italy and Germany. It was given to me by Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas."

The shelves of her four-room cabin are crowded with souvenirs of her travels. The shelf above the fireplace holds the bronzed first baby shoes of her two children and the skull of a grolia, given to her in Seattle.

Mrs. Wermuth now is a familiar figure in the Black Hills, and held in high affection for her acts of kindness. Even the crustiest old prospector waves as she wheels by on a trout fishing trip.

"No, I don't miss the city social life I used to know," she said. "Here they have something much better than society—a neighborliness you don't find in many places."

The Rocky Mountains are so big they give you a feeling of loneliness. But the Black Hills give you a feeling of serenity, peace."

Blood, Sweat and Tears in 1844

Politicians have long learned to use a phrase to stir the popular imagination. Such a phrase saves the people from the need for thinking. All they have to do is to repeat the phrase over and over again and then they believe that it is true. Theodore Roosevelt invented the phrase, "The Square Deal," which actually had no precise political meaning. The assumption was that most politicians, when playing the card game, poker, then as popular as bridge or canasta is in this generation dealt the cards from the bottom as well as off the top of the deck, but that Teddy dealt straight.

Franklin D. Roosevelt improved upon his distant cousin's phrase and made it "The New Deal," a rather confused adventure in politics and economics, having to do with doing at every political moment what came naturally without regard to the future. It was a most successful phrase because it gave Roosevelt four winning elections.

Winston Churchill came back into the politics of great Britain, when it seemed as though Hitler would win World War II, with the dramatic phrase, "Blood Sweat and Tears"—which is all that he could offer his people. It electrified them into resistance to the enemy. It stirred them to an historic effort of the greatest magnitude. It was a wonder-working phrase.

Imagine my surprise when I came across a political poster of 1844, headed "Hurrah for Birney & Liberty!" Never having heard of Birney but being a collector of anything that comes my way, I got a photostat of the poster from Larry Johnson who sells groceries in Syracuse and runs an old-fashioned country store.

It would seem that back in 1839, the Abolitionists, organizing the Liberty Party, nominated James G. Birney for the presidency, but he declined. In 1843, they repeated this nomination of James G. Birney who got 62,000 votes in the election of 1844 which was sufficient to upset the hopes of Henry Clay and resulted in the election to the presidency of James K. Polk.

The Birney poster contains the following paragraph:

"Anti-Monopolists, come and lend your aid for the overthrow of a mountain monopoly, compared with which all the other monopolies in this land are but as the 'small dust of the balance.' A monopoly whose capital of twelve hundred millions of dollars, all invested in human muscles and bones and sinews, and which, in its results, not only extorts from its immediate victims their toil and sweat and tears and blood, but annually drains uncounted millions from the pockets of the free North, and renders American Republicanism a hissing and by-word on the lips of all the despots of the old world."

There is no reason to believe that Winston Churchill ever heard of James G. Birney or his poster and we must assume that Churchill invented, "Blood, Sweat and Tears" out of his own head, he being very good at that sort of thing.

But this is an interesting historic fact. The Birney poster was for two mass meetings in Madison County, New York State. For years this particular poster hung in a country store in a town called Canesara in Madison County. Probably because nobody could pronounce Canesara, they changed the name to Sullivan which is what the town is now called to the everlasting joy of the Irish. Not many miles away is Pompey, a town in which, I am informed, lived a fine American girl, Jenny Jerome, who in due course became the mother of Winston Churchill.

Now, there it is. Winston Churchill got his wonder-working phrase pre-natally by osmosis. If you do not believe that, you will not believe that Bacon wrote Shakespeare, that Sam Rosenman wrote Franklin D. Roosevelt's speeches, that sometimes Haydn wrote Mozart and vice-versa, that nobody ever rolled his own. You must wonder that Socrates never wrote a book or why the learned and wise and fat Dr. Johnson has come down to us through the gay and somewhat profligate Scotsman, Boswell.

Well, I offer no explanation for these phenomena. But the Birney poster is real even if Birney is so forgotten that his name is hardly an historic memory as it is with so many other candidates for the presidency. As for Winston Churchill, he still holds forth in fine Georgian English, the master phrase-maker of our time.

LINDEN, N.J. — Stephen Sember was a tax collector's dream come true today.

Sember, who lives in a trailer, lodged a formal complaint with the City Council demanding to know why he hasn't been billed for taxes.

Sember said yesterday he had lived in trailer camps in various parts of the country for the past 10 years and always had been obliged—and happy—to pay his taxes.

Why, he asked, should it be any different in Linden?

The Council's tax committee promised to look into the matter.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Although it is not a common disease, lead poisoning cases seem to be on the increase, especially in small children. This becomes more unusual when it is considered that many manufacturers of paint are being more careful of the substances put into their product and of putting the word "lead" on paint containers.

The average age of the children afflicted with this disease is two-and-a-half years, and they usually come from families in the poorest economic groups. Their homes are often in poor condition, with paint peeling off the walls.

Most Frequent in Summer

Lead poisoning occurs most often in the summer months. It is often caused in children by chewing paint from cribs, furniture, woodwork or eating falling plaster or dry paint.

X-rays, blood counts and examination of the urine and blood make possible a definite diagnosis of lead poisoning.

It is normal for a child up to one year of age to put things in his mouth. However, after the first year, this becomes abnormal and is known as pica.

Besides the tendency to eat objects other than food, these children have abdominal pain, vomiting, constipation and loss of appetite, along with considerable weight loss. If it is a severe case, the nervous system may be affected, and the child may be drowsy, tired, and suffer behavior changes with severe temper tantrums. He is usually pale with a bluish marking on his gums.

A drug known as ethylene diamine tetracetic acid, commonly known as E.T.D.A., has been very dramatic in curing many cases of lead poisoning. However, some children still die needlessly of this disease.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

New Seaway To Intensify Drug Problem

COLUMBUS —Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill warned today that completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway will intensify Ohio's illegal narcotics problem.

The warning came in a second report on a statewide study of the problem at the request of the Legislature in seeking tighter controls. The report said:

"Ohio will be faced with an additional problem in the very near future. The St. Lawrence Seaway will make the northern shores of Ohio and all of its cities ocean-going ports. We can look forward to an increased enforcement problem in illicit narcotics traffic in this area. We must be alert and be prepared when the time comes."

Heroin, a derivative of opium, was termed the foundation of the illegal traffic. The report said the crystal-white powder can produce the most vicious addiction.

"Communist China is one of the major sources of the illicit narcotics traffic in the world today," the report stated. It added:

Another troublesome problem in Ohio comes from marijuana. Marijuana forms the "makin'" for reefer cigarettes and comes into this country mainly from Mexico.

The report quoted commissioner Harry J. Anslinger of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics as saying that heroine and marijuana are Ohio's two major problems.

O'Neill designated Alvin I. Krenzler of Cleveland, an assistant Ohio attorney general, to make the Ohio study. Krenzler said future reports would deal with the subjects of enforcement, penalties, treatment, prevention and education in the illegal narcotics field.

they will strike oil in the western Egyptian desert. It is the area where British Field Marshal Montgomery unleashed the thundering artillery barrage at El Alamein that drove Rommel into the arms of Eisenhower and heretofore Hitler's eventual defeat.

Believing that the same subsoil structure responsible for Iranian and Arabian strikes extends beneath the Suez Canal and into North Africa, the Naguib-Nasser regime asked the world's leading geologists to make preliminary explorations. The new government has revised its mineral and currency laws so as to attract foreign capital.

The scheme contradicts Egypt's new nationalistic spirit, which led to a "plague on both your houses" attitude to the United States and Russia. But this new, young crowd in control here is fairly realistic. They need Western know-how and mazzuma. Egypt asked Aramco, which markets Arabian oil, to handle the still speculative venture.

Aramco is owned 30 per cent by Standard Oil of New Jersey, 30 per cent by Standard Oil of California, 30 per cent by the Texas Company, and 10 per cent by Socony-Vacuum. The Americans, British and Dutch monopolize Iran's output. That fabulous man of Armenian descent, Calouste Sarkis Gulbenkian, who has swung many of these oil deals for the big companies, has a five per cent interest.

BIG OIL OUT—But the giant firms declined Egypt's invitation. In the first place, they have too much oil in production and prospect now, despite current high prices for gasoline. They also thought that the Naguib-Nasser regime wanted excessive royalties, and too low a price for retail sale within Egypt. Gasoline in Cairo costs 50 cents a gallon.

So, a group of smaller companies, known as "Camarado," have walked into Egypt in the hope of getting into petroleum's major leagues. It includes the Continental, Ohio and Amarado oil companies, all American firms. Another combine consists of Cities Service Company and the Richfield interests. There have been several regroupings, and there may be more, but these are the dominant corporations in the petroleum panorama of the Middle East. Some of the big companies may still sign up in the race to keep on top.

Politics may influence them. After all, and Naguib know it, Egypt could foul things up with regard to the Suez Canal's availability to oil-carrying vessels. And London and Washington could not interfere too violently. The Russians are now poisoning and propagandizing the Arab peoples against the United States, and with some success.

NASSER BOSS — Nasser, the real political and military boss of the revolution government, now has fresh reason for displeasure with Anglo-American diplomats as a result of their insistence that Spain cancel its contract to sell $3½ million worth of small arms to Egypt. He turned to Madrid only after the Eisenhower Administration would not provide weapons lest they be used against the British. He may now look to Moscow.

The great nations' need for oil starts and gears the machines of war. Therefore, the prospect of a new field here is extremely significant. The royalties would solve the new regime's difficulties in financing educational, agricultural and industrial development. It would give him a bargaining weapon in current and prospective disputes, a power he does not possess now. It might put the new Egypt on the international map in a much more important way.

Truck Trailer Makers Sell To Opponents

Railroads, Highway Haulers Both Getting Industry Attention

NEW YORK (AP)—Makers of those truck trailers that drone down the highways in front of your car are out today to play both sides of the street.

Not a swaying from side to side—but a play to double the num- bers of the cargo carriers by sell- ing to both of those bitter rivals, the railroads and the trucking in- dustry.

Competition is so keen that one of the top companies is redesign- ing its line of freight vans at a considerable drain on present earn- ings. Another is launching a cam- paign of interchanges of parts which allows its customers to design their own trailers to meet individual needs.

The federal proposal to build a net of cross-country highways and to widen existing ones brings loud cheers from the trailer makers, who have suffered this year from a letdown in sales, due to the gen- eral drop in the shipment of in- dustrial goods.

Some half million trailers carry freight over the nation's highways today. Fleeted on the number of tons carried per mile their busi- ness is 10 times what it was in 1936, the Bureau of Public Roads reports.

Industry leaders predict that that new designs and the expan- sion of the highway system will bring the number of trailers to one million within the next five or six years.

Trailer makers are also welcom- ing the yen of some railroads to carry trailers on flat cars to the city of their destination, there to slide them down to the streets to seek out the factory or store wait- ing for the goods they carry. Frue- hauf Trailer Co. says it already has orders for 400 trailers from seven railroads for piggy-back op- erations.

Trailmobile, Inc., which makes trailers as a subsidiary of that old- time railroad car supplier, Pull- man, Inc., will go after sales henceforth with a new plan for customer individualized design. resident William A. Burns says this gives each trailer buyer the chance to design his own units to meet his individual needs and to pay for only such materials and features as he wants and needs.

The company is starting this month to apply the principles of standardization and parts in- terchangeability to the truck-trailer industry. Customers pick out and combine their own choice of var- ious trailer sides, fronts, nose cap- floors, underframes, linings, knee- pin location, suspensions, landing- gears, and front and rear radi- ators.

It will put Trailmobile into the "custom tailor" business. A breakfast cereal maker, for example, to whom trailer weight is of small moment, can save money by ordering the cheaper and heavier metal products. A maker of trailer weight is of first impor- tance, might save money by or- dering the more expensive but lighter trailers of aluminum.

Roy Fruehauf, president of Frue- hauf Trailer Co., says the number of trailers on the roads will dou- ble by 1960. He adds, reassuringly, that by then there should be more and wider roads to help them stay out of the car drivers' way, thus easing public tension.

China-Indonesia Compact Signed

TOKYO (AP)—Moscow radio to- day said a barter trade agreement was signed between Communist China and Indonesia.

The broadcast heard in Tokyo quoted a Jakarta dispatch as say- ing negotiators reached an agree- ment in Jakarta.

It said Red China will export cotton, textiles, light industry ma- chinery, and Indonesia copra, cof- fee, quinine and other raw ma- terials.

The Chicago fire of 1871 made 100,000 people homeless.

Christian Dior's Latest Fad Not To Be Taken Seriously

By JIMMY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Before American women start doing anything drastic to hide their bosoms, I'd like to advise them not to take Christian Dior's no- bust dictum too seriously.

From where I sit one fact emerges from the current flat- chested furore, a fact that has be- come more apparent each year since 1947, when this small, book- ish Frenchman became an over- night celebrity as father of the "New Look".

Christian Dior is a showman in the P. T. Barnum tradition. The fashion business is one of cut-throat competition, with the lure going to the designer who is there fastest with the mostest sensations.

For the last seven years, Dior has been there fastest, creating a new day with drastic changes in the established silhou- ette, making women wonder whether to throw out all their old clothes, or get international con-headlines.

At the first Paris showing, at which the late and unlamented "New Look" was born, was the only one which succeeded in changing the basic dress of the average woman. This was a natural result of the feeling of wartime restric- tions, bringing back fuller, longer skirts after years when women had to choose except to wear short, tight ones.

Since then Dior has exploded a fashion bombshell at his Paris showing almost every summer and has become the most famous, suc- cessful and controversial figure in the international world of fashion.

His latest edict of knee-length skirts brought on a rash of hysterical and getting front page

c1 pro-and-con statements, sent buyers into a dither and elicited varying reactions from the general public, while, of course, making news on both sides of the Atlantic.

Grapevine gossip in the garment industry was that on the night be- fore the opening, Dior surveyed his collection, decided that it had noth- ing that would produce sensational news, and ordered all the skirts shortened about six inches.

After the short-skirt furore had reaped its full complement of head- lines, the astute designer an- nounced that the whole knee-length skirt controversy had been greatly exaggerated, and left on his vaca- tion.

As now is apparent, the short- skirt tempest had no appreciable effect on the American hemline.

The previous year, Dior man- nequins were said to be wearing no girdles when they modeled the newest designs of the maestro. This almost caused a panic in the cor- set industry, until Dior remarked mildly that he had said no such thing, and that he had merely lightened the boning in some of his evening gowns. Again he left on a holiday.

This year news that Dior had eliminated the bosom from the fall silhouette brought on a rash of editorial comment and crowded Indo- china, taxes and McCarthy for Page One Space.

Hollywood sweater girls sneered, bra manufacturers shouted, denun- ciations, store buyers lined up and took sides and American husbands laid down the law.

Then, a few days later, Dior an- nounced that he hadn't eliminated the bosom; he had merely raised it. In fact, he had designed and patented a bra lifting the bosom from the current average 10½ inches from the shoulder, to eight inches. A New York fashion edi- tor covering the Paris openings did a little detective work among the Dior mannequins and reported that the new bras are "straight little cages that reach from waistline to above bosom height . . . as an- shaped as a little girl's panty waist and without any suggestion of cups."

It seems apparent that raising the bustline to this extent also nec- essarily raises the neckline.

All this hardly seems a silhou- ette that will appeal to American women—and certainly it draws no applause from American men.

My bet is that bosoms are here to stay.

Dior, as usual, has left on his vacation.

Mrs. Spike Jones Dislikes Staying Home All The Time

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
Just staying home all day doesn't automatically make a woman a good mother, says Helen Grayco, wife of the professionally zany Spike Jones and mother of Spike Jr., 5, and Leslie Ann, 3.

Helen, a decorative and delicate type, accompanies her orchestra-leader husband on all his strenuous one-night - stand tours, does her part in his TV shows, runs a large home in Beverly Hills, cooks the Italian dishes Spike loves, designs her own wardrobe and is a highly successful mother.

In her spare time, say between 2 and 4 a. m. some mornings, Mrs. Jones plans the menu for the next family reunion, at which her 10 brothers and sisters and their assorted offspring gather with their parents at the hospitable Jones homestead. Says Helen:

"We usually have these family reunions at our house Christmas and the Fourth of July. There are 55 in the immediate family, counting 26 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren. My parents stay with us, and all my brothers and sisters and their families live nearby."

Helen and Spike take Spike Jr., and Leslie Ann along on all their trips except the one-night stands. Then when they are doing a Hollywood TV show, they sometimes stay at home in Beverly Hills for a couple of months, spending all possible time with the small fry.

"I guess we spend more time and thought on the children than I had thought to do but stay home and take care of them," says Helen. "At any rate, I'm sure they're perfectly happy and well-adjusted, and I'm sure they haven't missed any love or companionship from us."

Helen sings with Spike's band.

Iowa Town Plans Big Show For Hoover's 80th Birthday

WEST BRANCH, Iowa — A birthday celebration, the like of which Iowa has never before seen and probably can never duplicate, will be his native state's newest tribute to Herbert Hoover.

Thousands will gather Tuesday, August 10, in this community of 750 population, where the former President of the United States was born to a village blacksmith and his Quaker schoolteacher wife, 80 years ago.

Iowa is going all out to honor Hoover that day.

He comes to West Branch by special invitation, extended in formal resolution last year, by the Iowa legislature. Gov. William S. Beardsley has proclaimed Aug. 10 "Herbert Hoover" day; and urged attention to the "industry, integrity and sense of public obligation which made this native Iowan one of the world's great men."

So, Tuesday will be West Branch's biggest day in years.

There will be many reminders of those great times when Hoover held the highest office in the land. Associates of Hoover administration days and a number of other specially invited guests will reflect the eminence of the guest of honor.

President Eisenhower will be represented by Vice President Nixon. Among those who have made hotel reservations in nearby Iowa City and Cedar Rapids are governors, former governors, generals, college heads, close friends and relatives.

The latter will include both sons.

laugh at his antics and acts as best pal and severest critic whenever he tries out another of his zany inventions on her. He has $40,000 worth of strange musical instruments, including such things as exploding bagpipes, a harp that pops corn and a bass violin containing a kitchenette.

"Spike always tries them out on me first," says Helen, "to see if they're funny. Sometimes he thinks my sense of humor is inadequate. Like the time he put a rubber octopus in our swimming pool."

The Joneses believe in old-fashioned discipline for their children, and refuse to spoil them: even when it's hard not to humor their requests. Says Mama Jones:

"I have no patience with all this business about letting kids express themselves by smashing up the living room or punching a playmate. In my experience, no book of child psychology is equal to a good old-fashioned spanking for quick results."

Herbert Hoover Jr., and Allan Hoover, and their families.

Already Congress has extended its felicitations to Hoover on his 80th birthday's imminence. That was by concurrent resolution last month.

Members of the second Hoover Commission, now working on recommendations for reorganizing the executive branch of the federal government, are offering him a honorific scroll which notes:

"The new Hoover Commission and the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report present this distinguished service citation to the Honorable Herbert Hoover on the occasion of his 80th birthday, with warmest congratulations and in recognition of his unflinching devotion and out-standing contributions in behalf of federal reorganization to eradicate waste and insure better government for all Americans."

The scroll, bearing the names of 125 commission members, will be presented by John Stuart, Chicago, board chairman of Quaker Oats Co.

The State University of Iowa throws aside tradition Tuesday to join those honoring Hoover. Ordinarily it confers honorary degrees only at the inauguration of a new SU president and then on the campus.

But the university president, Virgil M. Hancher, will give Hoover an honorary doctor of laws degree, and here at the birthday program.

Hoover will dedicate a new elementary school named in his honor. He will visit his birthplace cottage, now preserved as a historic shrine, attend a picnic with friends in the community park, and receive the Hoover Commission scroll.

The afternoon's formal program will include tributes in addresses. Hoover's own speech will be televised by CBS, NBC and independent Iowa TV stations and carried by the four major radio networks.

Hoover then goes on to Iowa City for dedication of another Hoover school and to Cedar Rapids and Iowa City for the dedication of two more.

Few 'Crucial' Duels
Among Three Leaders
Left On Schedule

By The Associated Press
The American League pennant chances of Cleveland, New York and Chicago now seem certain to be decided in games against the five also-rans rather than in hand-to-hand combat.

With less than a third of the season remaining, the schedule is running out of the so-called "crucial" Indians-Yankees-White Sox series.

Cleveland has only five games left with the Yankees, who trail by a game and a half, and six with the White Sox who are five lengths back. The Yankees meet the White Sox just three more times.

But still to come for Cleveland are 13 meetings with Detroit, New York has 13 left with Philadelphia and Chicago faces Baltimore 11 more times.

Cleveland leads the league today because so far it has had better luck against the also-rans than either Chicago or New York. The Indians have whipped the "lowly five" 57 times while losing only 14. Against the same outfits the White Sox have a 54-19 record and the Yankees 50-21.

None of the three title aspirants has any particular home-or-away advantage. Cleveland's remaining 50 games are cut right down the middle, 25 at home, 25 on the road. The Yankees have 24 in New York and 23 away. The White Sox have 25 in Chicago and 21 on the road.

If Cleveland continues to win at its current .692 pace the Yankees would have to win 34 of their remaining 47 games to tie. The White Sox would need 37 out of 46.

The Yankees gained a 9-8 season's advantage over Cleveland yesterday by winning the final game of a three-part series 5-2. The White Sox ran their current winning streak to seven games with a 5-1 triumph over Boston. Washington whipped Detroit 4-1 in the only other American League action.

The New York Giants held on to their five-game edge over Brooklyn although they lost 6-4 to Chicago. The Dodgers were walloped 13-4 by St. Louis.

Cincinnati at Pittsburgh and Milwaukee at Philadelphia were rained out. These were the first postponements in either league since July 7, although several games which had been started had to be called because of bad weather.

Mickey Mantle led the Yankee raid into Indian territory with two home runs. Joe Collins hit one. Rookie Bob Grimm, with late inning help from Johnny Sain, posted his 14th victory. Sain gave up the only two Cleveland runs—a one-on-home by Larry Doby in the eighth.

The White Sox managed only five hits off five Boston pitchers but they got them when they counted most. Phil Cavarretta's two-run double in the first was the big blow as Bob Keegan won his 14th game.

A double by Wayne Belardi and a single by Al Kaline ruined Bob Porterfield's shutout bid with two out in the ninth at Detroit but the Washington righthander choked off the rally in time for his 11th triumph. Mickey Vernon homered off loser Steve Gromek in the fifth.

Stan Musial, who always has looked upon Ebbets Field as a real home away from home, drove in seven runs in the Cardinals' one-sided victory in Brooklyn. Musial hit two home runs, his 29th and 30th, each with two aboard, and drove in another with a sacrifice fly.

Stan's first blast drove Prescher Roe, an old St. Louis nemesis, to the showers. Rookie Brooks Lawrence won his ninth game since joining the club in late June and had a perfect day at bat with three singles.

Back-to-back home runs in the eighth inning by Ernie Banks and Eddie Miksis boomed the Cubs to victory over the Giants. Frank Baumholtz also hit into the seats for the Chicagoans.

Lefty Jim Davis, last of three Cub pitchers, stopped the Giants after they had put two on with none out in the eighth, then got Monte Irvin to rap into a game-ending double play in the ninth.

Racing Balked
By Showers

The harness horse racing programs at Xenia, Plain City and Lucasville were rained out Thursday night.

Plans were immediately made at all three Fairs for advancing the post time Friday (today) in order to get in at least some of the races that had been halted by rain. Racing is to start at Xenia at 6 o'clock and at 7:30 at Plain City.

Some followers of the harness horse racing sport here went to Xenia and a few went to Plain City on the long chance that the heavy showers that swept across Fayette County Thursday afternoon were strictly local and had missed the race meets.

Most of the Fayette County horses that are making the Fair circuit this summer are at Xenia and Plain City now. A few are at Lucasville down in Scioto County.

Virtually all of the horses that raced at the Fair here last week are now at either Xenia or Plain City. Some of them will be at Wilmington for the Fair races there next week.

Xenia and Wilmington will get the cream of the youngsters for both are on the Ohio Colt Racing Association circuit that puts up $1,000 stakes for two-year-olds and three-year-olds of both gait.

17 Couples Turn Out
For Mixed Foursomes

The downpour that came at mid-afternoon failed to dampen the spirits of some of the more ardent golfers but it did put a slight crimp in the turnout for the mixed Scotch foursome tournament at the Country Club Thursday evening.

Seventeen couples took to the fairways between 5 and 5:30 o'clock and that many more sat around under the trees and in the club house.

When the golfers came in at the end of nine holes, everyone gathered for the buffet supper about 7:30 o'clock.

Three couples tied for the low net score of 38; they were Wayne Shobe and Mrs. Charles Buxton, Chuck Dunton and Mrs. Bill McLean and Bill Himmelsbach and his daughter Christine.

Charles Buxton and Mrs. Wayne Shobe had the low actual score of 47.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bray took the putting honors with 14 strokes on the nine greens.

Bill McLean made the best shot of the day when he sank a 109-yard approach on No. 9. Chuck Dunton missed a putt of only inches on No. 8 for the worst of the day.

Other scores turned in were Bill McLean and Miss Florence Cook 51; Roger McLean and Mrs. Don Lange 59; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Parrett 57; Mr. and Mrs. George Smith 60; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bray 53; Dave Sloan and Mrs. Robert Lytton 55; Bob Lytton and Mrs. Dave Sloan 56; Dwight Coffman and Mrs. Elmer Reed 53; Ed Vollette and Mrs. Dwight Coffman 49; Elmer Reed and Mrs. Ed Vollette 60; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Zimmerman 56; Bill Crane and Mrs. Roger Littleton 66; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lisk 63 and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Johnson 67.

The next mixed two-ball foursome has been scheduled for the Sunday evening of Aug. 15. Play is to start at 3 P. M. with the buffet supper at 6:30 P. M.

Redlegs Scheduled
For Tough Series

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (P)—On a basis of past performances, there appeared to be only slight hope today that the Cincinnati Redlegs would be able to salvage much in the next three days from what has been their most disastrous tour of the East this season.

The Redlegs have won only two of nine games in Philadelphia, New York and Pittsburgh. They arrived here today for a series with Brooklyn, and the Dodgers, along with the New York Giants, have been the toughest customers for the Reds all season.

All four of the community's baseball teams will be in action Sunday.

Good Hope will be host to the Mt. Sterling team for a double-header starting at 1 P. M., and Milledgeville will play at Jeffersonville. Their single game starts at 2 P. M.

One of the games of the Good Hope-Mt. Sterling twin bill will be the playoff of the only game that has been rained out on the circuit this year. The other will be the regularly scheduled tilt.

Jeffersonville and Milledgeville played off their game that was rained out at the same time last Saturday. Unbeaten Jeffersonville won it, but did not have the soft snap that has marked so many games for the Jeffersonvillians this season.

The league standings put Jeffersonville on top, with Milledgeville, Good Hope and Mt. Sterling trailing in that order.

Leading Tam

CHICAGO (P)—A jolly, 225-pound pro from Tuscaloosa, Ala., who filched a putter from his wife's golf bag, today dared the big-name performers to catch him after an unprecedented start in the $25,000 All American money chase at Tam O'Shanter.

Bespectacled Hal Williams, 34, got up at the crack of dawn to start his first round yesterday, finishing at 9:30 a. m. with a five-under-par 67.

He had a haircut in the Tam barber shop, stopped for coffee and doughnuts then retreated to a motel to relax through the day.

His 67 withstood the challenge from 129 other pro shooters and gave him the first round lead by one stroke over Canadian Rudy Horvath, Australia's Peter Thomson and Norm Van Nida and Belgian Flori Van Donck.

For the first time since the Tam O'Shanter tournaments were inaugurated in 1941, the score of an early finisher stood up for the day.

Williams told of "borrowing" his wife's putter recently and taking only 22 strokes on the greens at Erie, Pa., tourney after using 38 with his own club. Yesterday the magic wand, inscribed "Mary" was good for 28 putts that helped put Williams to the front.

"Not only did I steal Mary's putter," laughed Williams, "but I also left her in charge of our golf club while I'm away."

The couple owns and operates the Meadowbrook Golf and Country Club at Tuscaloosa.

The wind yesterday played havoc with most of the scores but 35 sharpshooters managed to break 72.

What's Wrong
With Dem Bums?

BROOKLYN (P)—A five-game deficit with 44 to go is not an insurmountable obstacle to overcome. Bigger leads have been blown, but Brooklyn's chances of overhauling the New York Giants are growing slimmer day by day.

The Dodgers fizzled a grand opportunity to pick up a full game on the losing Giants yesterday as St. Louis walloped them 13-4 behind Stan Musial's pair of three-run homers. A St. Louis player, instrumental in the lop-sided Cardinal victory, was struck by the listless play of the Dodgers.

TV To Carry
Mighty Milers
In British Duel

VANCOUVER, B. C. (P)—Little Murray Halberg of New Zealand ranked today with kings and conquerors after beating the great Roger Bannister and outperforming famous John Landy yesterday in the mile trials at the British Empire games.

Murry may bow tomorrow to the power that is latent in the legs of the mighty, when Bannister and Landy wage the nationally-televised duel the world has been awaiting since they cracked the 4-minute barrier in separate tests earlier in the year.

But the Empire Games Mile tomorrow will be men against men instead of men against the clock and the little Auckland school teacher has proved himself a man. Murray went out and set the pace in the first heat of yesterday's trials—they called it the "Bannister heat"—and he was still out there in front when the timers clicked the clocks and read them at 4 minutes, 7.4 seconds. Bannister, chopping along in his big loose style was third in the heat behind Canada's Rich Ferguson. And then in the "Landy heat" another New Zealander scored a surprise first place. Bill Baillie crossing the line in 4:11.4. Landy was almost arm in arm with Vic Milligan of Northern Ireland.

Even the beating of a world standard by sweet-running Marjorie Jackson-Nelson of Australia in the women's 220-yard dash couldn't dim the luster of the mile prelims. Marjorie went scooting around the single-turn course in 24 seconds flat, topping the 24.2 world mark credited to Fanny Blankers-Koen of The Netherlands.

Angler Gets Assist
From Big Fish

BRIXHAM, England (P)—G. G. Crisp went empty-handed for hours while two companions on a fishing expedition hauled in catches right and left.

As the party upped anchor to row home an 11-pound fish jumped at a fly, cleared the edge of the boat and fell at Crisp's feet. It was the day's biggest fish.

Kentucky Set To Vote For Varied Nominees

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Voters of this border state tomorrow will nominate 10 congressional candidates in a quiet prelude to a keen U.S. senatorial race expected to match names—Cooper and Barkley—regarded by some Kentuckians as having political magic.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, Somerset Republican seeking reelection and former Vice President Alben W. Barkley, Paducah Democrat running to regain the senatorial post he had before being elected "Veep" in 1948, are without strong opposition in their primaries. Each is backed by his state party organization.

The 76-year-old Barkley and 52-year-old Cooper have been speaking for some time—although doing little formal campaigning—and leaders of both parties anticipate one of the most heated races in Kentucky history between the pair before the Nov. 2 general election.

In District primaries tomorrow, eight nominees for the U.S. House of Representatives also will be picked.

1-Armed Bandit In Home Grabbed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jack Kreske, owner of a Columbus plumbing supply firm, told police it was all his wife's fault.

"Every time we'd go out, she'd play the slot machines. Finally, I said, 'look, honey, I'll buy you one'."

Kreske said he bought an "old, broken down machine for her, figuring we could fix it up and she could play it. She's the only one that's put a nickel in it since and it's been in our basement all the time."

Police, embarked on an anti-pin ball drive, confiscated the machine from the recreation room of Kreske's home yesterday. Now he faces a $50 to $200 fine and six months in the workhouse for possession of the one-armed bandit.

New Poison Ivy Lotion Tested

CINCINNATI (AP)—A new lotion to stop itching from poison ivy in a few hours is being tested with good results at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine.

Dr. Leon Goldman, head of the dermatology department, said based on experiments even severe cases can be cleared up within a few days instead of the two weeks generally needed.

Treatment, however, should begin as soon as possible after contact for quick results, he told a newsman.

"When the poison ivy gets bad, internal treatments also are needed," Dr. Goldman said.

Columbus Police Chief Given Fine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—George W. Scholer was named Columbus chief of police a few weeks ago. Two weeks later his automobile and that of a patrolman crashed at an intersection.

The chief was arrested for failing to yield the right-of-way. The patrolman was not held.

Judge Charles R. Petree found the chief guilty in traffic court yesterday and fined Scholer $10 and costs.

The chief paid it, then congratulated the officers who had investigated the case on their fair and unbiased reports.

These City Aides Really Respond

MONTEREY PARK, Calif. (AP)—You got trouble here, you get help.

A fire started yesterday in the living room of Mrs. C. G. Grote's home. She phoned the fire department. Three trucks arrived promptly, followed by a police car, the city's public safety director, the city manager, the city budget officer and a fire department rescue unit.

The fire caused about $1,100 damage before it was extinguished.

Lightning Hits Country Home

Some Damage Done But No Fire Started

Mrs. Elmer Hutchison today was up to her elbows in what seemed to be an endless cleaning project at her home, but she and her husband agree it could have been much worse and were not complaining.

The only bolt of lightning Mrs. Hutchison recalls having seen during the downpour of rain Thursday afternoon hit their home on the White Pike.

The chimney was scattered all over the yard around the house, a big hole was blown in the floor just above the attic floor, and there was soot all over the downstairs rooms. The soot was blown out of an open grate in a dense black cloud that settled down over everything.

But Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison were happy that the lightning did not set fire to the house.

Mrs. Hutchison was at home alone when the lightning hit. She said it sounded like an explosion.

Hutchison had gone to Washington, C. H. with a load of hogs not long before the lightning hit his home.

HE SAID HE got in a heavy rain, but did not recall any thunder or lightning and was not particularly concerned. However, when Mrs. Hutchison finally reached him by telephone here, he said he immediately went back home.

He commented: "Lightning does strange things and I wanted to make sure it hadn't started any fire."

Underscoring Hutchison's observation were the storms early Thursday before daylight. Lightning flashed continually and thunder rumbled unceasingly during them, but reports of damage were few and far between.

In the afternoon, there was very little lightning—Mrs. Hutchison insists there was only one bolt—and a chimney was knocked off of a house.

While vast areas of the rest of the country continue to suffer from a drought that is becoming so serious the federal government is stepping in with offers to help distressed farmers, Fayette County's crops grow lush and green with heavy showers.

Streams that so often are dry or mere trickles at this time of year here are now flowing with a fair volume of water. Reports of dry wells are becoming fewer now. Fears of a water shortage have been eased by the rains and farmers say the corn and soybeans have been "made" by the rains.

Thieves Abandon Station Wagon Here

A station wagon bearing West Virginia license plates, was found abandoned on Willard Street Thursday and police communicated with West Virginia authorities and learned it had been stolen from a dry cleaner in Charleston at 2 A. M. Thursday.

Two Negro boys, wearing white shirts and long visored caps, were reported seen running away from the station wagon when it was abandoned.

No trace of the pair could be found, however.

The owner came after the car late Thursday night.

Courts

DECREE MODIFIED

An entry modifying the decree in the divorce case of Janet Matthews against Ronald Matthews, has been made by Judge John P. Case.

The decree refuses defendant's motion for personal custody of their minor children for one month each year and the court fixed the time when the defendant may visit the children.

It is further ordered that defendant pay the court costs and that, in all other respects, the original decree and order of the court made August 10, 1950, is readopted and reaffirmed.

ACCOUNTING ASKED

An accounting and other relief are asked by Edwin W. Dean in a suit filed against George Rodney Dean and Louise Dean. The plaintiff is represented by Sholnaker, George and Hill of Columbus.

The plaintiff states in his petition that on March 15, 1946, he entered into an oral agreement with the defendants, to purchase property in Columbus for $4,500 and the defendants were to take title and give mortgage, until the plaintiff was out of college, at which time they were to deed him half of the property. Plaintiff and defendant were to make monthly payments on the purchase price, and share all expenses connected with the property.

It is claimed by the plaintiff that when he asked for the transfer, the defendants failed to make it, and later sold the property and purchased lot 2 in the Brownell Addition in Washington C. H. with proceeds from the partnership property.

Dean asks that the defendants be required to make an accounting and that his share of the property be set apart to him.

TAKES UNDER WILL

Edna West, widow of Charles West, has elected to take under the will of her husband.

DISTRIBUTION APPROVED

Distribution of assets in the Lucile A. Woodmansee estate has been approved by the probate court.

NO ADMINISTRATION

The Harvey M. Brakefield estate has been relieved of administration.

JUDGMENT SOUGHT

Fred Trimble, doing business as the Trimble Home Furnishings of Mt. Sterling, has filed suit in municipal court against Amos T. and Reva M. Goolsby, for $138.28, on account for goods purchased Oct. 13, 1953. Reed M. Winegardner represents the plaintiff.

July Employment Holds 'Stable'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that employment conditions remained stable in July without an usual seasonal rise in unemployment.

A joint statement by the Commerce and Labor Departments said July's civilian employment was 62,148,000, an increase of 50,000 from June but 972,000 less than in July a year ago.

Unemployment was virtually unchanged in July at 3,346,000 or 1,000 less than the 3,347,000 counted in June. This change is so small it is considered within the margin of statistical error.

Principal Hired

SALEM (AP)—Clinton Heacock of nearby Beloit has been hired as principal of Damascus Goshen Union High School. He taught seven years in Sebring.

Wounded Boy Brought Here

Greenfield Scene Of Accident

While Doral McNeil, grocer, of Greenfield, was showing a .22 calibre rifle to Gilbert Holt of East Monroe, a prospective purchaser, Thursday afternoon, the weapon was accidentally discharged, according to McNeil, and the bullet passed through a thin partition and struck Tommy Blackburn, 12, who was playing in the store room back of the main store.

The boy was brought to Memorial Hospital where the bullet was removed. It was said the bullet apparently had not struck a vital spot and that the boy is recovering.

Floyd Pettiford and Holt took Tommy across the street to Dr. J. B. Glenn's office immediately after the accident. He was examined and then sent to the hospital here.

The bullet had struck him in the groin and apparently circled his hip and stopped near the surface in his back.

When police went to question McNeil, they found he had closed his store and gone to the home of his mother.

One or two phases of the case are being further investigated by the police.

Sen. Kefauver Wins Easily In Primary

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver kept his position as a presidential possibility yesterday as he and Gov. Frank Clement won assured re-election by crushing majorities in Tennessee's Democratic primary.

The winner of the Republican senatorial primary was Ray H. Jenkins, the Army-McCarthy hearing special counsel who did not seek the nomination and said he would not run if he got it.

The figures from 2,084 of the state's 2,591 precincts tell the Democratic primary story:

Senate: Kefauver 326,424; Rep. Pat Sutton 137,386.

Governor: Clement 368,917; former Gov. Gordon Browning 151,824.

Kefauver, who won most of the Democratic primaries and lost in the convention in the 1952 presidential derby, said yesterday's victory over Sutton was a triumph over isolationism.

Sutton, who conducted a fast-paced helicopter campaign between marathon radio-television broadcasts, conceded at midnight.

It was a smashing personal success for Clement, who is the nation's youngest governor at the age of 34. His victory margin in the race for the state's first four-year term was impressive.

A third candidate, Judge Raulston Schoolfield, drew more than 20,000 votes with a pro-segregation campaign.

In the GOP primary, limited mostly to eastern Tennessee, the reluctant Jenkins ran far ahead of Robert Gregory, a newcomer on the political scene. The totals from 180 precincts: Jenkins 6,543; Gregory 1,385.

There was no Republican candidate for governor.

Secrets to be Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department plans to publish possibly by October, a secret history of the wartime Yalta conference. The volume is the first in a series detailing international conferences of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

Rhodes Lists His Promises In Campaign

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Auditor James A. Rhodes, his campaign for governor officially in full swing, has agreed to meet Gov. Frank J. Lausche on the same platform in a debate Oct. 19.

Rhodes announced that he had accepted an invitation to speak with Lausche at the Greater Cleveland Knights of Columbus luncheon club, preceded his first major campaign address last night in Coalton, Jackson County.

In his speech, he recited off the following campaign promises: "I will toss out the 'snakepit' philosophy that dominates present administration of Ohio mental institutions and make full use of modern new structures."

"I will rid the liquor department of bribery and shakedown scandals by replacing political hacks with honest and qualified enforcement agents."

"I will give executive support to the newly created state board of education and strive to assure every boy and girl in the Ohio schools system the opportunity of obtaining an adequate education. School teachers must be guaranteed financial security."

"I will immediately begin a program to bring our highways up to standards required by modern day traffic. This will be begun with an overhaul of the highway department that presently is top-heavy in administration."

"I will insist upon a balanced conservation program. Foremost among these will be action — instead of just promises to assure adequate future water supplies."

"I will take steps to assure an adequate standard of living for Ohio's elder citizens, seeking an increase for old age pensioners."

On the same day last year, the mercury climbed to a high of 79 degrees and then dropped only 16 degrees to a low of 63 degrees during the night. Rain for the day totaled .03 of an inch.

Red Germany Accepts U. S. Aid

BONN, Germany (AP)—Communist East Germany in a surprise move today accepted President Eisenhower's offer of American aid for flood victims in the Soviet Zone.

The U. S. High Commission said a letter of acceptance from East German Prime Minister Otto Grotwohl has been forwarded here by the Soviet High Commission.

President Eisenhower's offer of American aid for victims of Europe's floods was made July 29. Emergency assistance was extended to victims in Western Germany and Austria, but the East German Communists rejected the offer of food and other aid at that time.

When the offer originally was made, the White House said roughly $4 million worth of food was needed in the inundated areas.
